

Provides:

Superior technology that outperforms traditional herbicides, fungicides and insecticides in golf and aquatic applications

NexGen Products Deliver More Performance With More Value

Phoenix Environmental Care specializes in taking effective, well-known fungicides, herbicides and insecticides whose patents have expired, and then adding greater value to them. But these products are much more than plain “generics.” At the top of our line is a whole new category of high-quality, high-performing pesticides under the name of NexGen...the next generation of post-patent chemistries. When a product earns the NexGen label, it represents advanced reformulations with only the best active ingredients and modern inerts, plus state-of-the-art manufacturing technology. NexGen pesticides are EPA-certified to be at least equal to the original materials, and as evidenced by extensive academic research, NexGen actually outperforms traditional products. Best of all, the professionals who use NexGen products say they’re completely satisfied with them.

Features	Benefits
Improved, proprietary reformulations	You get more value for your pesticide dollars plus the confidence of effective, proven performance from chemistries you already know and trust
Only the best active ingredients and inerts	You’re assured of getting thorough, reliable control of target weeds, pests, fungi or other diseases
New technological innovations in manufacturing	Improved formulating processes further enhance product quality and integrity
Proven by extensive university research	Consistently superior test results mean you can count on NexGen products to work better than the traditional formulations in most cases
Distributed exclusively by NexGen certified distributors	Gain peace of mind by working with helpful, knowledgeable professionals and technical-support experts
